Note.—This Return, prepared by the Registrar General of Seamen, cannot be given for earlier years. It includes Channel Islands Vessels, but not those of the British Plantations.

The Home Trade signifies on the Coasts of the United Kingdom, or to Ports between the limits of the River Elbe and Brest.

The Foreign Trade signifies to Ports beyond such limits.

No Foreign-going Vessel is included which has not been so reported within four years, and no Home Trade Vessel which has not been reported within one year. It is possible that some Vessels may be included which have ceased to exist, or are no longer employed as British Vessels, but every endeavour is made to ascertain and strike off such Vessels.

With respect to the Crews, a very small deduction ought to be made for the case of men who join a fresh ship immediately on their discharge from the former one, which happens to remain in Port.

Note.—The decrease in the Number of Persons committed for Trial in England and Wales, since 1855, is partly to be attributed to the operation of the Criminal Justice Act of 1855, which authorizes Justices to pass sentences for short periods, with the consent of the prisoners, instead of committing for Trial to the Sessions.

OBSERVATIONS

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS OF IRELAND,

FOR THE YEAR 1859.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY GEORGE WILLIAM FREDERICK, EARL OF CARLISLE, K.G.,
&c., &c., &c.,
LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to submit the detailed Tables of the Agricultural Statistics of Ireland for the year 1859, showing the holdings in nine classes, by baronies and poor law unions; the acreage under the several crops,—and the number of live stock on each class of farms. Other Tables give the position and description of every mill for scutching flax, and the number of weeks it had been at work during the preceding year. The area under flax was laid before your Excellency on the 27th of August, 1859; and, on the 20th September, following, General Abstracts, by counties and provinces, of the extent under each crop, and the live stock in 1858 and 1859.

Tables of the estimated average produce of the principal crops, and of the emigration from Ireland in 1859, were also submitted for your Excellency's consideration on the 25th February last.

PART I.—TILLAGE.

20,274,854 acres were returned as in the possession of landholders at the time of the collection of the Agricultural Statistics in 1859, being 15,532 acres above the extent held in 1858, which amounted to 20,259,322 acres. The area of Ireland was divided as follows, according to the Returns received, in 1858 and 1859:—

	1858. Acres.	1859. Acres.	Increase or Decrease in 1859. Increase.	Decrease.
1. Under Crops, including Meadow, ...	5,882,052	5,862,605	—	19,447

3. „ Fallow or uncropped arable land, . . .	42,551	38,725	—	3,826
4. „ Woods and Plantations, ...	313,271	318,874	5,603	—
5. „ Bog and Waste, &c., ...	4,667,331	4,563,728	—	103,603

Extent under Tillage.

It will be observed that the areas under grass, and also under plantations increased in 1859, whilst fallow and waste lands diminished.

The extent under the several crops in 1858 and 1859, showing the increase or decrease in each of them in 1859, will be seen in the following Table.

Wheat continues to decline in cultivation; 82,789 acres less having been grown in 1859 than in 1858.

The oat crop shows a slightly enlarged area; but barley, bere, and rye, continue to decrease in extent. Potatoes increased by 40,640 acres, whilst turnips show a diminution of 16,065. Mangel wurzel, parsnips, cabbage, vetches, and other green crops, also exhibit a decrease. The acreage under flax was above one-third more in 1859 than in the previous year,—the increase being 44,636 acres. Rape and meadow also show a larger area in 1859.

It may be observed that the proportionate area under each crop undergoes but little change from year to year; thus, in 1858, the relative area under the three chief crops grown in Ireland,—oats, potatoes, and hay,—was respectively, 33·7,—19·7, and 24·2 acres (or collectively, 77·6) in every 100 acres under cultivation; and in 1859, of oats there were 33·8 acres, of potatoes, 20·5 acres, and of hay, 24·5 acres (or collectively, 78·8 acres) in every 100 under crops; leaving, in the latter year, only 21·2 acres in each 100 to wheat, barley, turnips, cabbage, flax, and other crops.

The number of acres under each description of crop was as follows for the last seven years:—

It will be seen that in 1859, there were:— Extent under Tillage.

Under Cereal Crops,	2,652,780	Acres.
„ Green Crops,	1,619,325	„
„ Meadow,	1,437,111	„
„ Flax,	136,282	„
„ Rape,	17,107	„

And that with the exception of 1858, there has been a larger total extent under crops in 1859 than in any year since 1853.

There was a decrease in the extent of cereal crops in 1859, compared with the previous year, in every province, chiefly caused by a smaller acreage under wheat. This crop gradually declined in area from 1847, until the period of the Russian War in 1854, when it began to be somewhat more extensively grown, until 1857, since which time the tendency to cultivate it seems to have diminished. This will be seen from the following figures, showing the acreage under wheat from 1847 to 1859:—

ACREAGE UNDER WHEAT.

It is probable that wheat would be more extensively grown in Ireland but for the uncertainty of the climate, especially as it is a favourite crop to follow potatoes in the rotation of the farm; the moisture of the atmosphere, however, which is so favourable to the growth of grass, is prejudicial to the ripening of wheat. On this subject that accurate writer, Mr. Arthur Young, in his "Tour in Ireland," in 1776 to 1779,† says:— "I come now to consider one of the principal arguments used in favour of this measure. [The "Inland Bounty on Corn."] It is the increase of tillage being so beneficial to the kingdom. Taken as a general position, there may or may not be truth in the assertion. I am apt to think rather more stress is laid on it than there ought to be, and some reasons for that opinion may be seen in Political Arithmetic, p. 362, &c. But not to enter into the general question at present, I have to observe two circumstances upon the state of Ireland: first the moisture of the climate, and secondly the sort of tillage introduced.

"That the climate is far moister than that of England, I have already given various reasons to conclude; but the amazing tendency of the soil to grass would prove it if any proof was wanting. Let General Cunningham and Mr. Silver Oliver recollect the instances they showed me of turnip land, and stubble left without ploughing, and yielding the succeeding summer a full crop of hay. These are such facts as we have not an idea of in England. Nature, therefore, points out in the clearest manner, the application of the soil in Ireland most suitable to the climate. But this moisture which is so advantageous to grass is pernicious to corn. The finest corn in Europe and the world is uniformly found in the driest countries; it is the weight of wheat which points out its goodness; which lessens per measure gradually from Barbary to Poland. The wheat of Ireland has no weight compared with that of dry countries; and I have on another occasion observed, that there is not a sample of a good colour in the whole kingdom. The crops are full of grass and weeds, [how true is this in 1860, after the lapse of nearly a century!] even in the best management, and the harvests are so wet and tedious as greatly to damage the produce; but at the same time, and for the same reason, cattle of all sorts look well, never failing of a full bite of grass; the very driest summers do not affect the verdure as in England.

"I do not make these observations in order to conclude that tillage will not do in Ireland. I know it may be made to do; but I would leave the vibrations from corn to pasturage, and from pasturage to corn, to the cultivators of the land to guide themselves as prices and other circumstances direct, but by no means force an extended tillage at the expence of bounties.

"But what is the tillage gained by this measure? It is that system which formed the agriculture of England two hundred years ago, and forms it yet in the worst of our common fields, but which all our exertions of enclosing and improving are bent to extirpate. 1. Fallow; 2. Wheat; and then spring corn until the soil is exhausted; or else

* Incomplete owing to the disturbed state of the country. † Vol. II., Appendix, p. 139.

Extent under Tillage.

1. Fallow; 2. Wheat; 3. spring corn; and then fallow again. In this course the spring corn goes to horses, &c.; the fallow is a dead loss, and the whole national gain the crop of wheat; one year in three yields nothing, and one a trifle, whereas the grass yields a full crop every year. Let it not be imagined that waste and desert tracts, that wanted cultivation, are only turned to this tillage. Nine-tenths of the change is in the rich sheep-walks of Roscommon, Tipperary, Carlow, and Kilkenny. I have already proved this fact; the question therefore is reduced to this: Ought you to turn some of the finest pastures in the world, and which in Ireland yielded twenty shillings an acre, into the most execrable tillage that is to be found on the face of the globe? The comparison is not between good grass and good tillage; it is good grass against bad tillage. The tables I inserted prove that Ireland has lost fifty-three thousand pounds a-year for seven years in the produce of cows and bullocks, and one hundred and six thousand pounds in that of sheep; this a prodigious loss, but it is not the whole; there is the loss of labour on above fifty thousand stones of woollen yarn annually, which is a great drawback from the superior population supposed, perhaps safely, to flow from tillage. When these circumstances are well considered, the nation will not, I apprehend, be thought to have gained by having converted her rich sheep walks, which yielded so amply in wool, and in the labour which was annexed to wool, into so execrable a tillage as is universally introduced." How nearly this description given by Mr. Arthur Young of the climate of Ireland in 1776 resembles the weather of 1860!

It will be observed that in 1859 potatoes increased in extent in every province, and they will probably continue to be the favourite crop in Ireland, so long as the farms are in general so small. The average size of the holdings under tillage in 1859—omitting the farms under one acre in extent—was only about 10 acres, and it is not to be expected that the profit to the small holder, from a more extended cultivation of turnips and mangel, would equal the profit from a good crop of potatoes. The small farmer cannot feed his family upon turnips, as he does on potatoes, neither can he fatten his pig, nor keep his poultry with turnips; it does not therefore seem probable that much impulse can be given to the growth of turnips, mangel, &c., in place of potatoes, so long as the majority of the holdings is so small as at present.

The variations in the extent under corn and green crops, flax, meadow, and rape, between 1858 and 1859 are given in the preceding Table. Extent under Tillage.

In 1859 the growth of flax increased in every province except Munster, in which there was a slight decrease. Rape—a crop but little grown—also increased, except in Ulster, where it diminished by forty-two acres. Meadow decreased by 385 acres in Leinster, but increased in the other provinces, especially in Ulster, which had 11,962 acres more under hay in 1859 than in the previous year.

As the acreage under flax is a matter of great importance, I subjoin a Table (IV), showing the acreage under flax in each county and province, from 1854 to 1859, and the increase or decrease between 1859 and the preceding year.

TABLE IV.—The acreage under flax in each County and Province, from the years 1854 to 1859, inclusive, also the increase or decrease between 1858 and 1859.

The grazing lands being another important source of prosperity to the country, it will be interesting to give the proportionate area of pasture land (excluding meadow) in the several counties and provinces.

According to the Returns, the proportion of the entire area of the several counties used for grazing in 1859, was as under:—

Munster,	5,934,787	50·9	Connaught,	4,233,194	46·6

Of the several provinces in 1859, Munster had the largest proportion of the entire area (50·9 acres in every 100) devoted to pasture land; Leinster was next highest (49 acres per cent.), followed by Connaught (46·6 per cent.), and Ulster (40 per cent.)

Of the counties, Meath has the greatest relative area under pasture—58·2 acres in every 100 being devoted to the feeding of stock. Following it are Fermanagh, which had 56·6 per cent. of pasture land; Limerick, 56·3; Westmeath, 55·8; Clare, 55·1; Tipperary, North Riding, 54·9; Roscommon, 53·2; Antrim, 53; Leitrim, 52·8; and Kilkenny, 52·5 per cent. Louth had the least relative extent under grass, the proportion being 28·4 acres in every 100; Armagh had 29·9 acres; Down, 31·0; Tyrone, 34·3; Donegal, 34·6; Mayo, 37·4; Londonderry, 37·6; and Dublin, 39·2 acres in every 100 under grass. The remaining counties fluctuated between 41 and 53 acres of grass-land to every 100 of their respective areas.

Number and size of Holdings.

Classification of holdings.—The total number of holdings in Ireland in 1859 was 598,413, being a decrease of 765, compared with the previous year. The small farms up to fifteen acres diminished, and those above that extent,—with the exception of holdings of 500 acres and upwards (which decreased by seven),—increased in number in 1859, as shown in the following summary:—

Size of Holdings.	1858. Number.	1859. Number.	Increase or Decrease in 1859. Increase.	Decrease.

The counties which show an increased number of holdings in 1859, were Cavan (181); Clare (414); Cork (57); Donegal (765); Galway (50); Kildare (60); Leitrim (205); Londonderry (589); Mayo (57); Sligo (249); Tyrone (342); and Waterford (56.)

The number and size of the several holdings in each county and province, in 1858 and 1859, are given in Table V., on the succeeding page.

The small farms will be found to grow cereal and green crops in much higher proportion than the large ones. Thus 44·34 acres in every 100 were under corn, beans, and pease, on holdings "above 1 to 5 acres" in extent, whilst on farms above 500 acres the proportion was 30·79 acres in every 100. The smallest farms grew the greatest relative extent of green crops, whilst the largest grew a comparatively small proportion. On the holdings above 500 acres, there was a larger proportion of turnips grown than of potatoes; and as the farms diminish in size the proportion of them under potatoes increases, and that under turnips decreases. Cereals are grown in largest proportion on farms of "from 5 to 30 acres," and potatoes on those from 1 to 15 acres. Nearly one half of the farms above 500 acres are under meadow, and as the holdings decrease in size, so does the proportionate area under hay and clover.

Of the 5,842,403 acres under tillage on all farms above 1 acre, those

* Lawson and Son's Patent.—Worked by the Prisoners in Carrick-on-Shannon Gaol.

I beg to repeat my obligations to the magistracy, gentry, the clergy of all denominations, and to the tenant farmers, for their continued and valuable assistance in reference to these Returns. To the metropolitan and provincial press I am also much indebted for the friendly aid afforded on all occasions in publishing—accompanied by very favourable observations—the important objects and results of these Statistics.

I beg to add that the members of the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police who acted as Enumerators, discharged that duty in their usual efficient manner.

I have the honour to be, my Lord,

Your Excellency's very faithful servant,

WILLIAM DONNELLY,

Registrar-General.

HENRY WILKIE,
Chief Clerk.

Beans and Pease were included in the same column in the Returns up to the year 1851. The produce of Flax in 1847 was estimated at 48 stones per statute acre. There was not any return of produce for Cabbage in 1847, as the extent of land under that crop was entered under the head of "Other Green Crops" in the Enumerators' returns.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS, IRELAND, 1860.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY GEORGE WILLIAM FREDERICK EARL OF CARLISLE, K.G., &c.

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

Agricultural and Emigration Statistics Office,
10th September, 1860.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I had the honour, on the 10th ultimo, of submitting a Return of the acreage under flax in each county and province in the present year. I now beg to submit, for your Excellency's consideration, General Abstracts of the extent of land under the various crops, and of the number and description of live stock.

As on former occasions, the information has been obtained by nearly 4,000 enumerators selected from the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police, who performed this duty in their usual efficient and satisfactory manner.

The figures in the Tables may be taken as correct, although on passing in review the crops and stock on each farm in Ireland, —as is done in making a classification of the holdings (which are about 600,000 in number)—some alterations may be necessary.

The inquiries commenced on the 1st of June, and terminated about the middle of July: the results are very interesting, and exhibit the effect of the great deficiency of the hay and other crops of 1859 on the number of live stock. It is, however, satisfactory to find that the decrease in cattle and sheep is not so great as might be expected, when the extraordinary prices of hay and all feeding for farm stock are taken into account.

The changes in the number of Live Stock between 1859 and 1860 were as under:—

	Number in 1859.	Number in 1860.	Increase or Decrease compared with 1859.
Horses, .	629,075	620,938	8,137 Decrease.
Cattle, .	3,815,598	3,599,235	216,363 Decrease.
Sheep, .	3,592,804	3,537,846	54,958 Decrease.
Pigs, . .	1,265,751	1,268,590	2,839 Increase.

The variations in the acreage under crops are also given. Abstracts showing these changes in detail follow the General Tables for the counties and provinces, at pages 16 and 17.

I have ventured to call attention to the state of the dwellings of the labouring classes, and have given a Table (page 18) showing the number of mud cabins having only one room, in each county at the period of the Census in 1851.

On the subject of these vegetable pests of the Farm—Weeds—I have made a few observations; and as the emigration from Ireland continues to attract much attention, a Table is given at page 20, showing the number of emigrants from each province during the first eight months of 1859 and 1860; they amounted in 1859 to 59,409;—in 1860, to 62,185.

Labourers' Dwellings.—When treating of the Agricultural Statistics of Ireland, it will not, I trust, be considered out of place to allude to the subject of improvement in the Condition and Dwellings of the Agricultural Labourers of the country. To facilitate this most important object, an Act—23 Vic., cap. 19—was passed last Session. This Act contains a valuable provision, by which loans from the Treasury may be obtained for providing improved house accommodation for the Labouring Classes.* The Royal Agricultural Society has considered this subject of so much importance as to have recently made it one of its "primary objects," "To promote improvement in the Dwellings and domestic "condition of the Agricultural population of Ireland;" and have passed a resolution to the effect that when £5 are contributed from any county, the Society will add £5. A gold medal is then offered as a prize to the individual who has done most within the year to carry out this "primary object" in the county. Already several ladies have honoured the Society by becoming "Associates," for the special object above referred to;* and towards this great national work the Press will, no doubt, lend its powerful and generous aid.

The necessity for improving the Dwellings of the "Labouring Classes" will be apparent when it is stated, that at the period of the Census in 1851, there were in Ireland 135,589 Fourth-class Houses, or Mud Cabins, having only one room, for all the members of the family, of every age and sex.

The following description of the Irish cabins in 1779, taken from Mr. Arthur Young's Tour, is unfortunately too applicable in many cases at the present day:—

"The cottages of the Irish, which are called cabbins, are the "most miserable looking hovels that can well be conceived: they "generally consist of only one room; mud kneaded with straw is

" the common material of the walls; * * they have only a door, " which lets in light instead of a window, and should let the smoak " out instead of a chimney. * * The furniture of the cabbins is " as bad as the architecture; in many consisting only of a pot for " boiling their potatoes, a bit of a table, and one or two broken " stools; beds are not found universally, the family lying on straw."

Weeds.—In the Abstracts for last year, I observed that "an " anxious desire is very generally expressed for a measure to pro- " tect the industrious and improving Farmer who cleans his land " from the great injury done to his Crops by the winged seeds of " noxious weeds, which are carried by the wind from the field of " some careless neighbour," or from the sides of public roads, railways, canals, &c. A " Bill to provide for the destruction of " certain weeds in Ireland" was introduced last Session of Parliament by Sir William Somerville and Mr. Bellew, and from the general expression of opinion in its favour, it is to be hoped that the Bill may become law in the Session of 1861.

Professor Buckman, in his valuable essay on Weeds,* says:—

" It is well known that some of the most pernicious weeds are " crowned with a feathery down, which acts as a tiny parachute, " enabling such seeds to be wafted here and there by the slightest " breeze, and thus they float for miles." And again: " One bad " and dirty farmer may preserve weeds enough to continue a supply " to a wide range of neighbours, in which case it would not seem " unreasonable to call upon him to render compensation for da- " mages."

Mr. Charles Dickens, in one of his excellent publications, writes:—

" It would appear that we are within the truth in saying that, " where the weeds are not kept under, there is a loss incurred of " one-fourth of the crop. The weeds rob the growth with which " they are mixed of some part of the food which the ground holds " for the use of plants; they clog the ground mechanically; they " keep air and light from the young seed; they injure the crop " seriously when there is high wind or heavy rain; they delay the " processes of harvesting and stacking; and, by so doing, increase " the farmer's risk; while the grain that has ripened under all " these disadvantages, goes to the stack worse corn than it would " have been had it been grown unaccompanied by weeds."

At the meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society, at Waterford, in 1857, the following earnest observations were addressed by your Excellency to a large assemblage:— * * *

" I know that the total extinction of weeds must be a work of " time, and of gradual and continued effort, like all other great " works;—but. Delhi has not yet fallen—and Irish weeds are not " yet extirpated; and I believe the one to be as essential to the " real regeneration of Irish Agriculture, as the other is to the " martial glory and stability of the Empire." Delhi has since fallen, but your Excellency will regret to learn that the weeds of Ireland still keep possession of the field.

* The Emigration Returns for the months of July and August have not yet been received from Galway; the number who left that Port in these months is therefore estimated to be the same as in 1859.

The total number of Emigrants from Ireland,—according to the Returns,—from 1st May, 1851, to 1st September, 1860, including males and females of every age, was 1,140,982.

THE ESTIMATED AVERAGE PRODUCE OF THE CROPS;

AND

THE EMIGRATION FROM IRELAND

IN THE YEAR 1860.

TO HIS

&c., &c., &c.,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

Having submitted, on the 10th of August last, a Return of the acreage under Flax in each County and Province, and on the 10th of the following month, General Abstracts, showing the acreage under the several Crops in 1860, and the number of Live Stock, together with the Emigration from Irish Ports from the 1st of January to the 31st of August, I now beg to lay before your Excellency Tables showing the estimated average produce of the Crops in 1860, also the total number of Emigrants who left this country during that year.

The information respecting the estimated produce of the Crops was procured, as in former years, by intelligent members of the Constabulary, from respectable farmers and other persons conversant with the average yield per acre of the several Crops grown in the Electoral Division in which they lived. The rates thus obtained were then submitted to the Chairman and Board of Guardians of the several Unions for their approval or revision; and I am happy to state that the Returns have been revised for 2,415 out of 3,438 Electoral Divisions—the entire number in Ireland.

The first two Tables give the area of each County in Statute Acres, and the extent under Cereals, Potatoes, and other Crops; also, the produce of the Grain Crops in "Quarters," and of Potatoes in Tons; and show for all Ireland the acreage under the principal Crops in 1847, and in each year from 1849 to 1860. The yield per acre and total produce are also given. The estimated average produce, and the extent of land under each Crop by Counties and Provinces are also given.

On comparing the yield, as shown by the Returns, it appears that in 1860 Wheat produced a less quantity per acre—($4\frac{3}{5}$ Barrels of 20 stones)—than in any year since 1849, with the exception of 1850, when the estimated acreable yield was only $4\frac{2}{5}$ Barrels. Oats and Barley gave a better yield than in 1859, and with a less acreage, produced a greater quantity of Grain. Bere and Rye decreased in yield, and Beans and Pease increased. As regards the Potato Crop, the produce was considerably under that given for any of the previous 12 years. Turnips, Mangel, and Cabbage also decreased in yield; but Flax and Hay show a favourable increase over the previous year.

There was much variation reported in the Crops as grown in different localities. Thus, in the midland districts, Turnips were stated to be generally inferior, although some crops were good, and yielded about 30 Tons to the statute acre. Potatoes also were very variable, the late sown and not well manured being very inferior; the disease was said to be general, and the quality of the tubers of those that were sound was not equal to former years. Hay was a heavy crop, although many of the low-lying meadows suffered from floods. Early Oats were good and productive; but late Crops, in many instances, suffered, and were not maturely ripened; their yield was, consequently, very light. In some of the northern districts Oats, both as regards Grain and Straw, were stated to have been little inferior to former years. Hay was said to be about the same; Potatoes yielded about half compared with the Crop of 1859; and Turnips and Cabbages afforded but very small Crops.

The following is the estimated Produce of the principal Crops grown in 1859 and 1860, and the increase or decrease in the latter year:—

Crops.	Estimated Produce.		Increase or Decrease in 1860.
	1859.	1860.	Increase.	Decrease.

Flax,	21,577	23.760	2,183	.
Hay,	2,321,779	3,206,402	884,623	.

It will be observed that there was an increase in 1860 of 727,413 Quarters in the produce of Oats, Barley, and Rye, and a decrease of 200,885 Quarters in Wheat and Bere, leaving a net increase of 526,528 Quarters in the yield of Cereal Crops. Wheat, notwithstanding a greater extent having been sown than in 1859, shows a diminished produce; Potatoes show a decrease of 1,588,143 Tons; Turnips, 834,093 Tons; Mangel Wurzel, 17,705 Tons; and Cabbage, 141,286 Tons; making a total decrease in the produce of Potatoes and green Crops of 2,581,227 Tons. The yield of Flax was more by 2,183 Tons, owing to a considerable increase in the produce, the breadth sown being less by 7,687 acres, than in 1859. Hay also shows a large increase—884,623 Tons, there being 157,407 acres more of meadow-lands in 1860, and an increased yield of 8 cwt. per Statute acre, being the largest total produce of any year since 1847.

EMIGRATION FROM IRISH PORTS IN 1860.

The number of Emigrants who left Ireland in 1860 was 84,621,—42,658 males, and 41,963 females, being an increase of 4,022 persons compared with those who left during the previous year—the number in 1859 being 80,599. Exclusive of these Emigrants, 3,005 persons, who were residents of other countries, sailed from Irish ports during the same period.

The number of Emigrants from each Province and County, and the residents of other countries who embarked at Irish ports in 1859 and 1860, were as follow :—

In consequence of the great number of persons who emigrated from this country since the Census of 1851, it is attempted in the following Table to show the probable population of Ireland on the 1st of January of the present year. There being no general measure for the Registration of Births and Deaths in Ireland, the averages of these events in England and Wales have been used for the calculations, the ratio of the births being 1 to 31, and of the deaths 1 to 45 of the population. According to this computation, the population on the 1st of January, 1861, would appear to have been 5,964,302 persons, showing a decrease of 588,083 in the number of the inhabitants since the 30th of March, 1851. This, however, must be taken only as an approximation, the immigrants not being added, and the excess of Births over Deaths being only estimated.

These emigrants included persons of every age from infancy to fourscore years; but, as might be expected, the great majority was composed of the young and vigorous; thus, in Leinster, 71·9, in Munster, 73·4, in Ulster, 69·6, and in Connaught, 77·1 per cent. of the total number of emigrants were between the ages of 15 and 35. The total number of residents of Ireland who emigrated during the past year between these ages was 59,583, or 70·4 in every 100 emigrants.

CIRCULARS

AND

COPIES OF THE FORMS USED IN OBTAINING THE AVERAGE YIELD OF THE CROPS PER ACRE, FOR 1860.

Agricultural Statistics' Office,
5, Henrietta-street, Dublin,
1st November, 1860.

SIR,

You will receive herewith blank copies of "Form C," referred to in the "General Instructions" addressed to the Enumerators the 10th of last May, in order to enable you to procure Returns of the Rates of Produce of the various Crops grown in each of the Electoral Divisions mentioned in the enclosed List, which should be sent back to this Office along with the Returns, when completed.

I beg you will be so good as to select for this service Enumerators known to you for their intelligence and acquaintance with the parties resident in the Electoral Divisions for which the Returns are required. Instructions as to the method of filling the Forms are printed on them.

From the friendly co-operation and assistance which have been afforded to the Enumerators by all ranks and classes when collecting the Returns for this year, of the acreage under the several crops and the number of live stock, I confidently trust that by making inquiries from the resident Gentry, Clergy, and intelligent Farmers in the District, a valuable approximation to the average Rates of Produce per Acre of the various kinds of Grain, Potatoes, and other Crops grown in the several Electoral Divisions will be attained;—that being the object of this Return,—to which accuracy, as far as possible, can alone give any real value.

Your attention is particularly requested to this subject, in consequence of the increasing interest and importance now attached to Agricultural Statistics, and I trust you will be enabled to forward the Returns for your District to this Office before the 20th of November, in order that a General Abstract of the results may be compiled and submitted for the consideration of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

It is my intention to solicit the assistance of the Boards of Guardians on this difficult question,—as in former years,—in order to procure their opinions as to the Rates of Produce in the several Electoral Divisions and Poor Law Unions in Ireland. This information will form a valuable auxiliary to that obtained through the Constabulary.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General.

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General.

Agricultural Statistics' Office,
5, Henrietta-street, Dublin,
3rd December, 1860.

GENTLEMEN,

I take the liberty of enclosing copies of Returns showing the estimated average produce by the English, and also by the Irish Acre, of the various crops grown in 1860, within each Electoral Division of the Union of in order to procure from the Guardians their opinion as to whether the AVERAGE PRODUCE per Acre,—obtained by the Enumerators from resident Landholders,—fairly represents the yield of the respective crops.

In case the Guardian signing the Return considers any rate entered upon it, to be above or below what it should be, columns are provided in which to insert the corrected rate.

As these Forms may be filled without much trouble, I shall feel much obliged if the Guardians will be so good as to favour me with their opinion respecting the produce of the various crops in their Union, and thus aid in increasing the value of these Returns, which are of so much general importance to the community.

May I request you will be so good as to give directions to the Clerk of your Board to return these Forms to me as soon as possible, as they are required to assist in compiling for publication the Table of estimated average produce of the Crops in 1860.

In case it is inconvenient to obtain the signature of an Ex-Officio or Elected Guardian, particularly connected with any Electoral Division, the signature of any other Guardian acquainted with the District, will be sufficient;—or, if these rates of produce are discussed and decided upon at a Meeting of the Board, the signature of the Chairman, or of the Clerk, with his approbation, will answer the purpose.

I take this opportunity of expressing my obligations to the many Guardians who were so kind as to assist me in the revision of the Returns of Produce in 1860, and I trust that, on public grounds, I may be excused for soliciting the opinion of your Board on this subject.

Communications to this Office NEED NOT be prepaid.

I am, Gentlemen, your faithful servant,

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General.

* The Registration Counties consist of groups of entire Registration Districts, which Districts are generally identical with the Poor Law Unions. Whenever a District extends into more than one County it is assigned wholly to that county in which the greater part of the population is located, hence most of the Registration Counties differ more or less from the Counties Proper.

* The Expenditure properly appertaining to each year is specified, and not the Payments actually made, which depended upon arbitrations or agreements as to the amounts to be paid.

† In calculating this amount, the payment to the Chester and Holyhead Railway Company, hitherto included, has been omitted, as only part of that payment is for Postal Service, the remainder being of the nature of a Government Grant to increase the general facilities for communication with Ireland.

NOTES BY LEEDS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:—

* Iron Manufacture; that is, the conversion of pig iron into malleable iron. The men are paid by piecework, so much per ton; as the quality of the work varies, the price per ton also varies. The foregoing are nevertheless average prices, and taking the several classes of workmen as a body, the average earnings will be 30*s.* per week. A few first-class men earn as much as 4*l.* per week.

† These men are paid by the hour, a book being kept of the exact time they work. Working full time means 59½ hours per week, but 60 hours are paid for. A great deal of overtime work is performed in large establishments, some men occasionally working 100 hours per week, for which they are paid accordingly.

‡ This is a very important branch of trade in Leeds, and a leather fair is held quarterly.

§ The hands at the sewing machines and fitters are paid according to the quantity of work produced. This, as a wholesale branch of trade in Leeds, is limited to the production of the lighter kinds of boots and shoes such as are worn by women and children. A large export trade is carried on by some of the principal firms, in Northampton, Stafford, and Leeds made shoes.

‖ The manufacture of paper in Leeds is nearly limited to the production of brown and grey paper for packing purposes, and what are termed press papers for cloth finishers.

NOTE BY SHEFFIELD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—The Rates of Wages in this Return are in all cases (unless expressly stated differently) for the best work, and of course the wages earned by a man at commoner work would be less than the rates quoted. It must be also stated that as the work in Sheffield is almost universally piece work, it does not follow that the men in each trade work the hours named in this Return. What is meant is, that if an average workman worked the hours per week named in this Return, he could earn the Wages stated in each case.

NOTE BY EDINBURGH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—(a) Masons. In 1840, wages were at the rate of 4*d.* per hour for a week of 60 hours; now they are 5*d.* an hour for a week of 57 hours, but in winter the average time is about 48 hours, with a good deal of additional lost time from bad weather.

(b) Slaters. The hours in winter are shorter, but wages the same as in summer.

(c) Typefounders. The Casters and Dressers now work by the piece, and their wages average much higher than formerly.

(d) Painters. About one third of the less skilled and steady workmen are unemployed for nearly four months in winter. The habits of the men are, however, decidedly improved of late.

(e) Tailors. Cutters are paid very high wages, varying 1*l.* 4*s.* to 5*l.* 5*s.* a week. All the ordinary workmen work by the piece, at rates to yield on an average 24*s.* for a week of 72 hours; but the actual wages vary much according to skill, and for a considerable portion of the year the greater number have not full employmsnt.

(f) Bakers. In 1840, Bakers' working hours were from 3 or 4 in the morning to 8 in the evening, now they are from 5 in the morning to 5 in the evening. The class is much improved in sobriety and good conduct within the last twenty years.

* On the 1st of January 1859 this Company had 85 Agreements with Railway Companies and Public Offices for their Business Messages. The number of such Messages is not recorded, but is estimated as amounting to three times the number sent by the general Public. This Company also furnished intelligence, on the 1st January 1859, to 180 Provincial Journals, and to 70 different Reading Rooms, but no record is kept of the number of those Messages.

† The number of Messages to and from the Continent transmitted jointly by this Company and the Submarine Telegraph Company, and the number of Messages for Railway Companies, Newspapers, and News Rooms, are not included with the Messages for the Public, but are estimated at about 250,000 Messages per annum.

‡ The South-Eastern Railway Company has no working arrangements with either of the Electric Telegraph Companies.
